

合心会

AiShinKai

Classical Bu-jutsu and Modern Budo in Japan

900 A.D.
Emergence of first truly professional warriors

Bu-Jutsu

Horsemanship - Ba-jutsu
Archery - Kyu-jutsu
Swordsmanship - Ken-jutsu
Pole Arms - So-jutsu, Naginata-jutsu, Tetsubo-jutsu
Hand Tools - Kusarigama-jutsu
Grappling - Yoroi-kumi-uchi
Binding - Hojo-jutsu
Swimming - Suiei-jutsu

Classical Budo - Koryu
Horsemanship - Ba-jutsu
Archery - Kyu-jutsu
Swordsmanship - Heiho, Ken-jutsu, Iai-jutsu
Pole Arms - So-jutsu, Naginata-jutsu, Jo-jutsu
Grappling - Ju-jutsu
Binding - Hojo-jutsu
Swimming - Suiei-jutsu
Arrest - Taiho-jutsu

1000 A.D.
Military profession fully established as hereditary privilege

1150 A.D.
Minamoto Yoritomo establishes Bakufu military government

1200 A.D.
Rise of bushido, a class of soldier elevated from the farmers and loyal to the military government

1300 A.D.
Mongul attempts at invasion prompt substantial changes in arms and armor, strategy, and military organization

1600 A.D.
Tokugawa Ieyasu establishes Tokugawa Bakufu

1590 A.D.
Toyotomi Hideyoshi unifies Japan

1336 -1568 A.D.
Ashikaga Period Rise of the Daimyo

1600-1853 A.D.
Tokugawa Peace Decline of the bushi and the retreat of classical Budo

Modern Budo

Archery - Kyu-do
Swordsmanship - Ken-do, Iai-do
Pole Arms - Jo-do, Naginata-do
Grappling - Ju-do, Aiki-do, Kempo
Striking - Karate-do

Japanese Budo martial arts are now practiced in virtually every nation on Earth!

1853 A.D.
Commodore Perry demands U.S. trade treaty with Japan causing downfall of Tokugawa Shogunate

1867 A.D.
Meiji Restoration establishes new government headed by the Emperor: Samurai stripped of hereditary privileges; Budo practice refocuses on character/citizenship

1920-1945 A.D.
Control of government once again shifts to the military, which moves Japan on a collision course and war with the U.S. and western allies

1945-1952 A.D.
Japan accepts defeat following atomic blasts at Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Military occupation ends with establishment of representative democracy; Japan adopts official pacifist foreign policy. Modern Budo dedicated to fostering citizenship & character development.

Get More information
www.aishinkai.com
www.pacificbudo.org

Copyright 2010
AiShinKai &
Dr. Jonathan Bannister
Founder & President